AUTHORED BY: Councilor ROVIN ANDREW M. FELICIANO

WHEREAS, in a research study conducted by the Food and Nutrition Research Institute (FNRI) regarding the nutrition status of children aged 10 to 19 years old, the National Capital Region garnered the most percentage of obese children more than any other region of the country;

WHEREAS, the National Nutrition Council basing its inferences from the FNRI study had observed that such a situation stems from the proliferation of improper food (junk food) easily available to the younger generation in the NCR;

WHEREAS, such a situation has led to the rising occurrences of young children being affected by chronic illnesses such as asthma, diabetes, abnormally high blood pressures, and emotional depressions which can all be correlated to malnutrition;

WHEREAS, the gustatory preferences developed by a young person during his early school years may very well be carried into adulthood and thus the proper food preferences of a child must be guided during this period;

WHEREAS, in the face of existing legislative regulations which prevent the outright banning of improper food currently available for purchase and consumption even by children, alternative courses of legislative actions must be taken to protect our youth.

NOW, THEREFORE, be it ordained as it is hereby ORDAINED by the Sangguniang Panglungsod of Valenzuela in formal session assembled that:

SECTION 1. SCOPE. This ordinance is directed towards all educational institutions public and private schools, regardless of educational scope and size, commercial establishments dealing in food products including all forms of food vendors, and all local government institutions and facilities.

SECTION 2. DEFINITION OF TERMS. For purposes of clarity and legal interpretation the following terms used in this ordinance will be understood as follows:

- "Economies of Scale" - apply to a variety of organizational and business situations and at a various levels such as business which will affects the City's economy.

SECTION 3. DIRECTIVES. All institutions, commercial establishments, food vendors and local government units as pertained to by Section 1 of this ordinance are hereby mandated to implement the following:

- The Official List of Healthy and Non-healthy Food.

- Within twenty (20) working days The City Health Department in coordination with the Department of Health will formulate and release an official list of recommended food products that can be considered beneficial to the health of students as well as an official list of food items that are considered "junk" or unhealthy for student consumption. These official lists will be submitted to the Sangguniang Panlungsod and will form an integral part of this ordinance. Copies of these lists will be provided by the Secretary to the Sanggunian to the Office of the Mayor.

- Within twenty (20) working days after the submission of these lists, the Mayor's Office will submit the designs of the official posters containing the list of both the recommended healthy food as well as those that can be considered as junk food. These designs shall be made in two sizes, cartolina sized (4'x2) posters for institutions and commercial establishments, as well as smaller letter sized (8" x 11") posters for food vendors. These poster designs will be submitted to the Sangguniang Panlungsod for approval.

- These posters will be printed for distribution by the Business Permits and Licensing Office of the City Government as part of the requirements for obtaining the necessary business licenses of all the educational institutions, commercial establishments and food vendors that falls within the scope of this ordinance.

- The Business Permits & Licensing office shall charge the appropriate fees for the printing of these posters.

- In the case of public schools who do not need to obtain business permits the posters will be provided free of charge by the City Health Department. The operator of food concessions and canteens within the school premises will be required to pay for the appropriate fees for these posters just like any other commercial establishments who are required to procure permits and licenses.

- In the case of private schools, both the schools and all food concessions within their premises are required to acquire and be charged for these posters separately.

- In the case of local government units, the posters will be provided by the Mayor's Office to all city government offices and the League of Punong Barangays will provide these posters to the barangay government facilities.

- These posters will be posted by all those concerned in a conspicuous area easily noticeable by the students within the premises of the concerned establishments. In the case of food vendors, the smaller posters must be placed in front of their facilities where it can easily be seen by all those availing of their products.
