WHEREAS, it has been the practice of power and communication companies to install several poles/posts in one area without considering the safety and convenience of the public and the damage that it could pose to the environment;

WHEREAS, the ugly and unsafe dangling power and communication wires and cables and the leaning, rotten and redundant poles installed by these companies greatly contributed to the blight and clutters in our environment;

WHEREAS, despite the government's and the public's call for action to these utility companies to correct and improve the poor result of their works, these companies did nothing to respond to the said call and continuously disregarded the code of standard practice for this application;

WHEREAS, in order to ensure public safety and convenience and to avoid further increase of similar urban blight and clutters, there is an urgent need to suspend the issuance of permits to all public utility companies applying to install/construct new projects so they can put all their resources to address this problem seriously with haste;
