DENR Administrative Order No. 86, dated October 4, 1988 is hereby amended to read as follows:

"In line with the National Forestation Program and in order to promote the planting of trees by owners of private lands and give incentives to the tree farmers, Ministry Administrative Order No. 4 dated 19 January 1987 which lifted the restriction in the harvesting, transporting and sale of firewood, pulpwood or timber produced from Ipil-ipil (leucaunia spp.) and Falcata (Albizzia falcataria) is hereby amended to include all other tree species planted in private lands except premium hardwood species. Henceforth, no permit is required in the cutting of planted trees within titled lands or tax-declared A & D lands with corresponding application for patent or acquired through court proceedings, except those belonging to premium species listed under DENR Administrative Order No. 78, Series of 1987, provided, that a certification of the CENRO concerned to the effect that the forest products came from a titled land or tax declared alienable and disposable land is issued accompanying the shipment.

"This Order takes effect immediately and amends/revokes or modifies all other Administrative Order, Memoranda or Circulars inconsistent herewith".

Adopted: 22 Feb. 1990
