Attached are Resolution No. R-590, Approving the Revised Model Zoning Ordinance, (RMZO) adopted by the Board on 11 November 1996, and the text of said model which is Volume X of the 1996 series of Guidelines for the Formulation / Revision of Comprehensive Land Use Plans.*

1. The RMZO is a revision and update of existing guidelines formulated some 15 years back pursuant to the mandates of the Board to extend technical and related forms of assistance in the land use planning of local government units. It was reached after consultations with other government agencies, LGU representatives and private sectors concerned. As its title suggests, it is a model, a framework to serve as procedural and documentation reference or guide for the LGUs relative to the various processes in their substantive formulation of their own zoning ordinances.

2. The Field Operations Support Group and the Regional Field Offices are hereby instructed to ensure the widest dissemination of the RMZO to the LGUS.

For your guidance, information and appropriate action.
