1. This ICT Advisory is being issued in support of the web presence initiatives of the government and to increase public awareness of and access to government websites.
2. The National Computer Center enjoins all government agencies and its instrumentalities to include their respective websites address or Uniform Resource Locator (URL) and official e-mail address in their agency letterheads, business cards, brochures and other printed materials.
3. It is further suggested that the URL and official e-mail address appear on all official communications, preferably on the first page. Please refer to Section 4 of NCC Memorandum Circular No. 2003-01 for the official e-mail address format.
4. Business cards of government officials and employees should include the URL and official e-mail address of the agency, aside from their personal e-mail address.
5. Brochures and other printed materials should include the URL and official e-mail address of the agency, together with the regular details on contact information.

Adopted: 28 May 2004

Study smarter at BATAS.org

The Philippine bar review and law-school companion built around how your brain actually remembers.

The complete Philippine law library - free for everyone.

More than 100,000 Supreme Court decisions, Republic Acts, and executive issuances - full-text searchable, browsable by category and year, and always free. No paywall, no login. This PDF came from it.

Audio case-brief lectures.

Any decision becomes a podcast-style lecture - facts, issues, ruling, and doctrine - with read-along highlighting and a hands-free presentation mode. Study while commuting, working out, or resting your eyes.

Bar review built on the science of memory.

Complete, sequenced courses for all eight bar subjects, narrated like podcasts and reinforced with retrieval practice and spaced review - the study techniques with the strongest evidence behind them.

The full law-school curriculum.

One subscription unlocks the entire J.D. curriculum - every subject, every lesson, with your progress tracked down to the paragraph so you can pick up exactly where you left off, on any device.

Mock exams that tell you where you stand.

Timed multiple-choice exams graded instantly, with per-subject score breakdowns and focus suggestions that point you at your weakest topics first.

A study planner that keeps you on pace.

Set your schedule and BATAS tells you every day whether you are on track for bar day - and exactly which lesson to take next.
