

GILDA JARDELEZA, (DECEASED), SUBSTITUTED BY HER HEIRS,
NAMELY: ERNESTO JARDELEZA, JR., TEODORO MARIA JARDELEZA, ROLANDO L. JARDELEZA, MA. GLENDA JARDELEZA-UY, AND MELECIO GIL JA...

G.R. No. 167975. June 17, 2015

Ponente: BERSAMIN, J.

Read online (full-text search, related cases, audio case brief): <https://batas.org/library/g-r-no-167975/>

BERSAMIN, J.:

The petitioner directly appeals the order of January 31, 2005[1] dismissing her complaint for reconveyance and damages, and the order of April 7, 2005[2] denying her motion for reconsideration,[3] both issued by the Regional Trial Court (RTC) in Iloilo City in Civil Case No. 23499, contending that the dismissal was grossly erroneous under the law and pertinent jurisprudence.

The antecedents follow.

On March 7, 1997, the Spouses Gilda Jardeleza and Dr. Ernesto Jardeleza, Sr. (Ernesto) commenced Civil Case No. 23499 against respondents Spouses Melecio and Elizabeth Jardeleza, JMB Traders, Inc., and Teodoro Jardeleza (Teodoro) respecting several parcels of their conjugal lands. Civil Case No. 23499 was raffled to Branch 33 of the RTC. On January 13, 2004, during the pendency of Civil Case No. 23499, Ernesto died. Hence, administration proceedings (Special Proceedings No. 04-7705) were commenced in the RTC (assigned to Branch 38), and Teodoro was appointed as the administrator of the estate. The other heirs questioned the appointment in the Court of Appeals (CA).

Meanwhile, Teodoro, in his capacity as the administrator, filed a motion to dismiss in Civil Case No. 23499 on the ground that because Melecio, one of the defendants, was also an heir of Ernesto, the properties subject of the action for reconveyance should be considered as "advances in the inheritance," and, accordingly, the claim for reconveyance should be heard in Special Proceedings No. 04-7705 by Branch 38.

Branch 33 issued the first assailed order dated January 31, 2005 granting the motion to dismiss, viz.:

Considering that the Motion to Dismiss dated December 15, 2004 carries with it the signature of all parties and their respective counsels in the above-entitled case, the prayer for the dismissal of the complaint and the counterclaims in this case are hereby granted.

SO ORDERED.[4]

Gilda sought reconsideration, arguing that she had a personal cause of action of her own distinct from that of Ernesto; that she neither signed nor consented to the dismissal of Civil Case No. 23499; and that Teodoro should have first sought the approval of Branch 38 as the intestate court considering that the estate could potentially recover properties belonging to it.

On April 7, 2005, Branch 33 issued the second assailed order denying Gilda's motion for reconsideration.

Hence, Gilda has directly appealed the adverse rulings of the RTC. Did Branch 33 err in dismissing Civil Case No. 23499?

Ruling of the Court

The appeal is meritorious.

Firstly, although Branch 33 based its dismissal of Civil Case No. 23499 on the fact that the motion to dismiss^[5] filed by Teodoro, in his capacity as administrator, bore the signatures of all the parties and their respective counsel, the records show that the motion to dismiss carried only the conformity of Teodoro. In addition to the cited ground being obviously a misrepresentation, Teodoro's conformity to the dismissal would stand only for the intestate estate of Ernesto, and did not bind Gilda without whose express conformity the dismissal of Civil Case No. 23499 was ineffectual. Gilda's express conformity was not merely necessary but indispensable considering that the properties sought to be reconveyed pertained to the conjugal partnership of Gilda and Ernesto.

Secondly, Gilda correctly posits that the action for reconveyance, which survived the intervening death of Ernesto as co-plaintiff, should be maintained independently of Special Proceedings No. 04-7705. Indeed, whether an action survives or not depends on its nature.^[6] In a cause of action that survives, the wrong complained of primarily and principally affects property and property rights, the injuries to the person being merely incidental; in a cause of action that does not survive, the injury complained of is to the person, the property and rights of property affected being incidental.^[7] This rule is applicable regardless of whether it is the plaintiff or the defendant who dies, or whether the case is in the trial or in the appellate courts.^[8] Verily, Civil Case No. 23499 survived the death of Ernesto.

Thirdly, the jurisdiction of the RTC as a probate court relates only to matters having to do with the settlement of the estate and probate of a will of a deceased person, and does not extend to the determination of a question of ownership that arises during the proceedings.^[9] This is true whether or not the property is alleged to belong to the estate,^[10] unless the claimants to the property are all heirs of the deceased and they agree to submit the question for determination by the probate or administration court and the interests of third parties are not prejudiced;^[11] or unless the purpose is to determine whether or not certain properties should be included in the inventory, in which case the probate or administration court may decide prima facie the ownership of the property, but such determination is not final and is without prejudice to the right of interested parties to ventilate the question of ownership in a proper action.^[12] Otherwise put, the determination is provisional, not conclusive, and is subject to the final decision in a separate action to resolve title by a court of competent jurisdiction.^[13]

In this regard, it bears mentioning that Civil Case No. 23499 had been instituted in 1997 and was pending trial before Branch 33 prior to the bringing of the probate proceedings in 2004. In dismissing Civil Case No. 23499, Branch 33 shirked from its responsibility to decide the issue of ownership and to let the probate court decide the same. Branch 33 thereby did not consider that any decision that Branch 38 as a probate court would render on the title and on whether or not property should be included or excluded from the inventory of the assets of the estate would at best be merely provisional in character, and would yield to a final determination in a separate action.

Lastly, the comments of the heirs of Gilda, who had meanwhile also passed away, and Ernesto reveal that they had no longer any objection to the overturning of the dismissal. In his comment,^[14] Teodoro prayed that the dismissal be undone. Rolando Jardeleza's own comment^[15] expressed his support for the petition of Gilda to have the dismissal reversed so that the properties allegedly donated to the respondents would be brought back to the estate of his late parents and be included in its final settlement. In her comment^[16] and consolidated reply to comments,^[17] Glenda Jardeleza manifested her intention to substitute the late Gilda, her mother, and prayed that Civil Case No. 23499 be remanded to Branch 33 for further proceedings. With all the heirs of Gilda and Ernesto having thus united to seek the undoing of the dismissal in order to have a trial on the merits on the question of ownership of the affected properties, the dismissal should now be undone.

WHEREFORE, the Court GRANTS the petition for review on certiorari; REVERSES and SETS ASIDE the assailed orders issued on January 31, 2005 and April 7, 2005 in Civil Case No. 23499 by the Regional Trial Court, Branch 33, in Iloilo City; REINSTATES Civil Case No. 23499; DIRECTS the Regional Trial Court, Branch 33, in Iloilo City to continue the proceedings in Civil Case No. 23499 with dispatch; and ORDERS the respondents to pay the costs of suit.

SO ORDERED.

Sereno, C. J., Leonardo-De Castro, Perez, and Perlas-Bernabe, JJ., concur.

[1] Rollo, p. 20, issued by Judge Virgilio M. Patag.

[2] Id. at 9; 20.

[3] Id. at 509.

[4] Supra note 1.

[5] Rollo, pp. 501-503.

[6] Bonilla v. Barcena, No. L-41715, June 18, 1976, 71 SCRA 491, 495, 496.

[7] Id. at 496.

[8] Regalado, Remedial Law Compendium, Vol. 1, 6[th] Rev. Ed., p. 93.

[9] Sanchez v. Court of Appeals, G.R. No. 108947, September 29, 1997, 279 SCRA 647, 672; Ramos v. Court of Appeals, G.R. No. 42108, December 29, 1989, 180 SCRA 635, 647-648.

[10] Ongsingco, etc. v. Tan, etc., and Borja, No. L-7635, 97 Phil. 330, 334 (1955); Adapon v. Maralit, No. 46898, 69 Phil. 383 (1940).

[11] Cunanan v. Amparo, G.R. No. L-1313, 80 Phil. 227, 232 (1948); Vda. de Manalac, etc. v. Ocampo, G.R. No. L-48753, 73 Phil. 661, 662 (1942).

[12] Alvarez v. Espiritu, L-18833, August 14, 1965, 14 SCRA 892, 898-899; Falcatan v. Sanchez, L-9247, 101 Phil. 1238 (1957); Vda. De Paz, et al., v. Vda. De Madrigal, et al., L-8981, 100 Phil. 1085 (1956).

[13] Baybayan v. Aquino, No. L-42678, April 9, 1987, 149 SCRA 186, 192; Pastor, Jr. v. Court of Appeals, G.R. No. L-56340, June 24, 1983, 122 SCRA 885, 895.

[14] Rollo, pp. 170-172.

[15] Id. at 160.

[16] Id. at 175-176.

[17] Id. at 229-233.

ABOUT BATAS.ORG

Study smarter at BATAS.org

The Philippine bar review and law-school companion built around how your brain actually remembers.

The complete Philippine law library - free for everyone.

More than 100,000 Supreme Court decisions, Republic Acts, and executive issuances - full-text searchable, browsable by category and year, and always free. No paywall, no login. This PDF came from it.

Audio case-brief lectures.

Any decision becomes a podcast-style lecture - facts, issues, ruling, and doctrine - with read-along highlighting and a hands-free presentation mode. Study while commuting, working out, or resting your eyes.

Bar review built on the science of memory.

Complete, sequenced courses for all eight bar subjects, narrated like podcasts and reinforced with retrieval practice and spaced review - the study techniques with the strongest evidence behind them.

The full law-school curriculum.

One subscription unlocks the entire J.D. curriculum - every subject, every lesson, with your progress tracked down to the paragraph so you can pick up exactly where you left off, on any device.

Mock exams that tell you where you stand.

Timed multiple-choice exams graded instantly, with per-subject score breakdowns and focus suggestions that point you at your weakest topics first.

A study planner that keeps you on pace.

Set your schedule and BATAS tells you every day whether you are on track for bar day - and exactly which lesson to take next.

Start free at <https://batas.org>

The law library is free forever - and your first lesson is one click away.

The text of this document is an official public record and remains in the public domain. Formatting, presentation, and compilation © 2026 batas.org.

Downloaded free from the batas.org Law Library. Share it freely - the library is free for every law student, bar reviewee, and practitioner.