SANDOVAL-GUTIERREZ, J.:

For twice raping his teen-aged daughter, Marcelo Caliso, appellant, was sentenced to suffer the penalties of death in Criminal Case No. 717 and reclusion perpetua in Criminal Case No. 716 by the Regional Trial Court (RTC), Branch 46, Larena, Siquijor in a joint Decision dated September 10, 1997.

Hence this automatic review.

On September 13, 1994, two separate informations were filed with the said RTC charging Marcelo Caliso with rape, committed as follows:

Criminal Case No. 716

"That on or about the second week of July 1993 at 12:00 o'clock noon, at barangay Campalasanan, Municipality of Lazi, Siquijor, Philippines, and within the jurisdiction of this Honorable Court, the above-named accused did then and there by means of deceit, force, violence and intimidation, willfully, unlawfully and feloniously succeeded in having carnal knowledge with AAA, his daughter, against her will." [1]

Criminal Case No. 717

"That on or about the 15th day of February 1994 at 12:00 o'clock noon, at barangay Campalasanan, Municipality of Lazi, Siquijor, Philippines, and within the jurisdiction of this Honorable Court, the above-named accused did then and there by means of deceit, force, violence and intimidation, willfully, unlawfully and feloniously succeeded in having carnal knowledge with AAA, his daughter, against her will." [2]

Upon arraignment, appellant Caliso pleaded not guilty to the crimes charged. [3] Thereafter, joint trial ensued.

The evidence adduced by the prosecution shows that AAA, born on January 19, 1979, is the third child of xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx and appellant Marcelo Caliso. AAA lives with her parents and her siblings xxxxxxxxxxxx, xxxxxxxxxxxx, xxxxxxxxxxxx and xxxxxxxxxxxx in a one-storey house in Capalasanan, Lazi, Siquijor. They sleep in the living room. [4] Appellant works on a farm half a kilometer away from their house.

Sometime in the second week of July 1993, appellant and AAA, then 14 years old, were alone in their house. Her mother, xxxxxxxxxxxx, and sister xxxxxxxxxxxx were in Manila. Her brothers xxxxxxxxxxxx and xxxxxxxxxxxx went fishing, while xxxxxxxxxxxx, her youngest brother, was playing outside the house. At around 11:00 o'clock in the morning, AAA, clad in a t-shirt and a skirt, was in the kitchen. Suddenly, appellant took a bolo and a garote from the kitchen, seized AAA and pulled her to the living room where he aimed the bolo at her abdomen and ordered her not to shout. He pushed her to the floor and pulled her skirt. Frightened, she cried as he took off her panty and placed himself on top of her. He placed the garote on the floor beside him and then removed his shorts. At this moment, she described how she was ravished by appellant: "I felt something was inside my vagina, and my father kept on moving." [5] "It was painful below" [6] as "he took my womanhood." [7]

Afterwards, appellant stood and warned AAA not to tell anybody what transpired, otherwise, he will kill her. She retrieved her underwear and continued crying. While walking towards the little storage room to change her underwear, she noticed fresh blood in her private part. When her brother xxxxxxxxxxx arrived in the afternoon, she refrained from mentioning anything about the incident. [8]

Subsequently, appellant ravished her again several times but she could no longer recall the exact dates. [9]

On February 15, 1994, at around 12:00 o'clock noon, appellant instructed her to accompany him to the well in order to fetch water. On their way, they passed by a hut in the farm. Suddenly, he pulled her inside the hut. She tried to resist but he threatened to kill her. Thereupon, he forcibly pushed her to the floor, causing her to fall on her back. She helplessly watched him as he unsheathed a bolo from his waist. Then he aimed it at her stomach and removed her skirt and panty. He then took off his shorts and brief with one hand, while pointing the bolo at her with the other hand. Next, he placed himself on top of her, making push and pull movements. She kept on crying. [10] After satisfying himself, appellant warned her not to tell her brothers and sisters.

Minutes later, AAA fetched water from the well, while appellant remained inside the hut. Then she proceeded directly to their house and told her mother xxxxxxxxxxx, sister xxxxxxxxxxx and brother xxxxxxxxxxx about her harrowing experience. Her mother wept and said nothing. Incidentally, xxxxxxxxxxx disclosed that she had also been molested by her father. [11]

On February 20, 1994, at around 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon, AAA, xxxxxxxxxxx and xxxxxxxxxxx fled from their house as their father was tending the farm. They went to the residence of their mother's sister, Lourdes Catian Lomongo, in Poblacion, Maria, Siquijor and informed her about appellant's sexual offenses. She advised them to institute rape charges against him, which AAA did. [12]

AAA submitted herself for physical examination by Dr. Evelyn Cortes-Retana of the Siquijor Provincial Hospital. The doctor revealed that AAA had "healed lacerations of the hymen at 6:00 o'clock position" and that there was "ease" when two (2) fingers were inserted through her vagina. [13]

The defense, on the other hand, presented the lone testimony of appellant. He denied raping his daughter AAA. He recounted several incidents portraying her as a liar and a girl of ill temperament and loose morals, thus: [14]

- In April, 1993, AAA asked permission from her parents to attend a dance party at Cangaya, Lazi, Siquijor. Her parents consented. She returned home past 10:00 o'clock in the evening, telling her mother that there is a man following her and that he loves her.

- On May 11, 1993, AAA again went to a dance party at Cangaya, Lazi and returned home at around 11:30 in the morning of the next day. Instead of scolding her, appellant merely expressed relief that she passed the night at Boyong. Appellant was apprehensive she might encounter drunk people on her way home.

- On May 24, 1993, AAA attended another dance party with her father's consent. She came home at dawn of the next day. She told him that she actually arrived early in the morning but had lost her way because she had to go back and forth looking for her handkerchief. He told her to go to sleep, assuring her that he will search for the handkerchief himself. And so he did. Along the way, he noticed a white cloth on the grass and took it. To his surprise, it was AAA's panty with her name on it. Upon his instruction, his wife confronted AAA about that underwear, and the latter cried. When he confronted her, she merely said that "he need not worry because she is already big” and that “he cannot interfere with whomever she loves.” In the afternoon of that day, he went inside their hut in the farm to rest. Suddenly, he felt someone about to strike him with a hammer. He woke up in time to parry AAA's blow, losing his two teeth in the process and breaking a third one. Although he was angry, he did not punish AAA as it was not his nature to do so.

- On July 12, 1993, AAA's younger sister xxxxxxxxxxxx said that she does not want to be like her older sister who attends fiestas and dances, does not come home early and leaves her panty along the road. Angered by such remark, AAA tried to strike xxxxxxxxxxxx with a knife. Appellant was able to parry AAA's thrust, but he was hit on his knee.

- On February 11, 1994, AAA's youngest brother xxxxxxxxxxxx spilled a plate of rootcrop. AAA became furious and immediately struck him with a knife. Again, appellant was able to parry the blow with his foot but he sustained an injury on his lower leg.

Appellant further testified that he “cannot afford to take a bath with his own blood.”[15] He surmised that AAA filed the rape charges against him because he refused to grant her request to sell their house and lot so the family could engage in business. He rejected her request because the tax declaration of the property is not in his name and that he cannot sell the property without the consent of his brothers and sisters.[16] xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx, AAA's mother, refuted appellant's testimony, describing his story as pure lie. The truth is her husband often maltreated her and their children. He always carries a bolo wherever he goes. Contrary to his claim that AAA hit him with a hammer causing his teeth to fall, xxxxxxxxxxxx declared that he actually had bad teeth which he himself pulled. She also stressed that AAA loves her younger brother xxxxxxxxxxxx so much that she will never harm him as claimed by appellant. Moreover, in controverting her husband's testimony that AAA filed the rape charges because of his refusal to sell the house and lot, xxxxxxxxxxxx declared that he does not own any property.[17]

On September 10, 1997, the trial court rendered judgment,[18] the dispositive portion of which reads:

"WHEREFORE, finding the accused MARCELO CALISO guilty beyond reasonable doubt of two (2) counts of Rape, he is hereby sentenced to suffer the following penalties:

- a) Reclusion perpetua or imprisonment for a minimum period of Thirty (30) Years in Criminal Case No. 716;
- b) Death penalty in Criminal Case No. 717 as mandated under Section 11 of Republic Act No. 7659; and
- c) To indemnify the offended party, AAA, the amount of Fifty Thousand Pesos (P50,000.00) in each case or One Hundred Thousand Pesos (P100,000.00) in all by way of moral damages, and the amount of Twenty Five Thousand Pesos (P25,000.00) in each case or a total of Fifty Thousand Pesos (P50,000.00) by way of exemplary damages but without subsidiary imprisonment in case of insolvency.

"The Clerk of Court is hereby directed to transmit the complete records of these cases to the Honorable Supreme Court within fifteen (15) days from today for automatic review, the same being a capital offense.

"SO ORDERED."

Appellant Marcelo Caliso ascribes to the court below this lone error:

"THE TRIAL COURT MANIFESTLY ERRED IN CONVICTING ACCUSED-APPELLANT OF TWO (2) COUNTS OF RAPE NOTWITHSTANDING THE FAILURE OF THE PROSECUTION TO PROVE HIS GUILT BEYOND REASONABLE DOUBT."[19]

Article 335 of the Revised Penal Code provides that a person commits rape by having carnal knowledge of a woman under any of the following circumstances: (1) by using force or intimidation; (2) when the woman is deprived of reason or otherwise unconscious; and (3) when the woman is under twelve years of age or is demented.

By its very nature, rape is normally committed away from public view and without witnesses around save the perpetrator and the victim themselves.[20] Thus, the lone testimony of a rape victim, by itself, is sufficient to warrant a judgment of conviction if found to be credible.[21] A person accused of a crime may be convicted, not on the number of witnesses against him, but on the credibility of even one witness who is able to prove his guilt beyond a shadow of doubt.[22]

In the present case, appellant contends that AAA's testimony is not credible. While she testified that he raped her in September 1993, she later claimed that it took place in July 1993.

The fact that AAA appeared unsure as to the exact date of the first rape cannot discredit her whole testimony. It is not unusual for a girl of tender age who was subjected to an incestuous atrocity to forget the date when the traumatic incident occurred. In any case, the precise date when complainant was sexually abused is not an essential element of the crime of rape.[23] The gravamen of the offense is carnal knowledge of a woman under any of the circumstances enumerated in Article 335 of the Revised Penal Code, not the date of the commission of the crime.[24]

Appellant also bewails AAA's unreasonable delay in reporting the rape incidents, claiming that it took her seven (7) long months after the first sexual assault before seeking help from the authorities. It bears stressing that the victim's long silence and inaction are not always construed as indications of false accusation.[25] AAA testified that appellant threatened to kill her and her siblings if she reported his sexual assaults against her. Being the father, appellant exercises moral ascendancy over AAA. This, undoubtedly, intimidated her into silence. Her delay in reporting the rape is thus understandable and does not affect her credibility.[26]

Appellant further attempts to discredit AAA's testimony by imputing ill motive on her part in charging him with rape. He claims that she hated him for refusing to sell their house and lot in order that they could put up a business. This contention is utterly baseless and ridiculous. xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx, appellant's own wife, debunked his claim, saying that such situation can never happen simply because he has actually no land to sell. Moreover, it is unthinkable that AAA could conjure a rape scenario against her very own father just because he refused to sell the house and lot. At her very tender age, she does not have the capacity to charge him falsely and undergo the humiliation of a public trial, an embarrassing medical examination and undue exposure of dishonor to herself and her family. A teen-aged daughter would not accuse her own father of such an unspeakable crime as incestuous rape had she really not been aggrieved.[27]

As to the rape committed in July of 1993, appellant contends that the prosecution failed to prove carnal knowledge, asserting that AAA could not describe that "something moving inside her vagina" when he was allegedly on top of her. He contends it could be a finger, not a male private organ. Thus, he could only be liable for acts of lasciviousness instead of rape.

Appellant's argument is absurd. Considering her tender years, innocence and shyness, AAA evidently had difficulty describing appellant's sexual organ and how she was actually raped. Nevertheless, she repeatedly declared that her father "took her womanhood." [28] She testified that her father "moved" inside her body and described his sexual penetration as "push and pull" which she experienced "many times." [29] She felt pain inside her vagina and that her father "kept on moving" while on top of her. [30] Then she noticed fresh blood in her private part as she was changing her panty after the first rape incident. [31] AAA's testimony was supported by the medical findings of Dr. Evelyn Cortes-Retana that she had healed lacerations on her hymen and that there was “ease” when two (2) fingers were inserted through her private organ.[32] It must be stressed that a young girl's revelation that she was raped, coupled with her voluntary submission to medical examination and her willingness to undergo public trial where she could be compelled to give out the details of an assault on her dignity by her own father, cannot be easily dismissed as a mere concoction.[33] Indeed, when a woman declares that she has been raped, she says in effect all that is necessary to mean that she has been raped, and where her testimony passes the test of credibility the accused can be convicted on the basis thereof.[34] This long-standing rule applies with more vigor when the culprit is a close relative of the victim,[35] as in this case.

As to the sexual assault on AAA committed on February 15, 1994, she described the manner in which her father intimidated her into submitting to his lustful desires. Threatening AAA with death, appellant succeeded in having sexual intercourse with her. She helplessly cried and endured the ordeal of her father's evil acts as he “(took) her womanhood.”

The trial court was correct in giving full credence to AAA's testimony. Testifying in a candid and spontaneous manner, she convincingly related to the trial court how her father raped her. Despite a lengthy cross-examination, she remained firm and steadfast in positively identifying him as the person who raped her, not just once but twice.

Upon the other hand, appellant's defense merely consists of bare denial, an intrinsically weak defense, specially because it was not buttressed by strong exculpatory evidence.[36] In view of AAA's convincing testimony that she was raped sometime in July 1993 and on February 15, 1994, as well as her positive identification of her father as the culprit, his unsubstantiated defense of denial must fail.

Verily, from the evidence on record, we are fully convinced that appellant Marcelo Caliso raped his daughter AAA as charged in Criminal Case Nos. 716 and 717.

As to the rape committed in July of 1993, subject of Criminal Case No. 716, we affirm the trial court's imposition of the penalty of reclusion perpetua, considering that Article 335 of the Revised Penal Code prescribes the penalty of reclusion perpetua in simple rape.

We note that the rape committed on February 15, 1994 in Criminal Case No. 717 occurred after Republic Act No. 7659 took effect on December 31, 1993.[37] The trial court imposed the death penalty on appellant pursuant to its amendatory provisions in relation to Article 335 of the Revised Penal Code, pertinent portions of which read:

“The death penalty shall also be imposed if the crime of rape is committed with any of the following attendant circumstances:

“1. when the victim is under eighteen (18) years of age and the offender is a parent, ascendant, step-parent, guardian, relative by consanguinity or affinity within the third civil degree, or the common-law spouse of the parent of the victim.

x x x x x x x x”

Under the above provisions, the concurrence of the victim's minority and her relationship with the offender constitutes a special qualifying circumstance which increases the penalty to one degree resulting in the imposition of the death penalty. It is essential, though, that such special qualifying circumstance be properly alleged in the information and duly proved during the trial.[38]

In the instant case, while the information sufficiently alleges that appellant is the father of the victim, however, it does not specify the latter's age at the time the crime was committed. Such fatal omission bars the imposition of the death penalty.[39] Thus, appellant cannot be convicted of qualified rape. Otherwise, he would be deprived of his constitutional right to be properly informed of the nature and cause of the accusation against him since the information merely charges him with simple rape. Fundamental is the rule that every element of the crime charged be alleged in the information in order to enable the accused to properly prepare his defense.[40] Consequently, the penalty meted to appellant by the trial court in Criminal Case No. 717 should be reduced to reclusion perpetua.

Regarding damages, we note that the trial court, in both Criminal Case Nos. 716 and 717, awarded moral damages of P50,000.00 and exemplary damages of P25,000.00 in each case in favor of the victim, but omitted to grant civil indemnity. Civil indemnity is mandatory upon the finding of the fact of rape and is distinct from and should not be denominated as moral damages which are based on different jural foundations and assessed by the court in the exercise of its sound discretion.[41] In the present case, the offended party is entitled to the amount of P50,000.00 as civil indemnity in each case, in accordance with current jurisprudence.[42]

WHEREFORE, the assailed decision of the RTC, Branch 46, Larena, Siquijor in Criminal Case Nos. 716 and 717, finding appellant Marcelo Caliso guilty beyond reasonable doubt of two counts of rape, is AFFIRMED with MODIFICATION in the sense that appellant is liable for simple rape and is sentenced to suffer the penalty of reclusion perpetua, instead of death, in Criminal Case No. 717, and is ordered to pay private complainant AAA, for each count of rape, the amount of P50,000.00 as civil indemnity. Costs against appellant.
